Vocabulary Constabulary (1)

Are you a good detective? The Vocabulary Constabulary needs your help.

You can often detect the meaning of a word or phrase by reading it in context, that is, by reading the other words around it in a piece of text. Find the page, article or paragraph in TPP and then detect the word or phrase that solves the clue to its meaning. The number of letters and the starting letter of the solution are in brackets after each clue.

'Dragon Man' may rewrite history (Page 6)

A skull that was discovered in the city of Harbin, in north-eastern China, back in 1933 may belong to a previously unknown species of human, and the international team behind the research are ecstatic. Other scientists believe the skull could be from a member of a human group that lived in East Asia some 146,000 years ago.

'Oh my gosh! I could not believe that it was so well preserved. You can see all the details. It is a really amazing find!' said Xijun Ni, a professor at the Chinese Academy of Sciences and Hebei GEO University in Shijiazhuang.

The skull has been assigned the name Homo longi by scientists, which means 'Dragon Man'. Homo is the Latin word for 'man' and long is the Mandarin Chinese word for 'dragon'.

Professor Chris Stringer from London's Natural History Museum told the BBC that in terms of fossils in the last million years, this is one of the most important.

Some experts think the discovery of the skull may go on to rewrite the story of human evolution.

JWST ready for launch (Page 6)

A super-strong telascope, which cost $10 billion (€8.5 billion) and took 25 years to build, is being loded onto the Ariane 5 space rocket later this munth. It will then travel 1.5 million kilometers into space over a 29-day period.

Space agencies NASA (USA), ESA (Europe) and CSA (Canadia) are preparing the launch of the James Webb Space Telescope (JWST), the world's biggest and most powerfull telescope.

A special cammera on the JWST, called the NIRCcam, will capshure light from billions of years ago, back when the earliest galaxies were formed. The telescope will also detect infrared light which, reserchers hope, will help them determine when stars and galaxies were formed.

Is it really over? (Page 5)

Are we really about to say goodbye to the 'new normal' and return with great sighs of relief to the 'old normal'? Cross your fingers and toes because we've been told that the end of COVID restrictions is in sight.

It's all planned to happen gradually over the months of September and October. The great day of liberation is supposedly October 22. Then, 'Most remaining restrictions will be eased', the government says. 'Most' not 'all' and 'eased' not 'ended'. So not 100%? Hopefully they're just being cautious about what they promise!

In any case, let's not complain! Things are set to return to normal. For example, Confirmations and First Communions will be allowed from early September, and by September 20, dance classes and gymnastics will be allowed

September 20 will see workers return to the office, but flexi-times are encouraged – that is, workers choosing their start and finish times, or working from home. Surely, it's time they allowed flexi-times for schools?

However, mask-wearing will 'not be going away any time soon', the government says. Well, masks have become quite fashionable and a way to express our individuality. We'll miss them when they're gone. But we'll happily wave goodbye to all the other restrictions COVID has brought upon us.

International Day of Peace Poster Competition

Each year the International Day of Peace is observed around the world on September 21. The UN General Assembly has declared this as a day devoted to strengthening the ideals of peace, through observing 24 hours of non-violence and cease-fire.

In 2021, as we continue through the Covid-19 pandemic, we are invited to think creatively and collectively about how to help everyone recover better, how to build resilience, and how to transform our world into one that is more equal, more just, inclusive, sustainable, and healthier.

We can do this by standing up against acts of hate online and offline, and by spreading compassion, kindness, and hope in the face of the pandemic, and as we recover.

One way of achieving the above goals is to raise awareness – both of the day itself and of the ways we can help bring peace into our lives and that of others. Posters can be very effective in raising awareness and can be a great way of opening up discussion and debate.

This month we challenge you to design a poster for International Day of Peace. It can be in any medium you like and be of any size. When you have completed your poster, ask your teacher to scan it to a computer and email it to: schools@theprimaryplanet.ie.

We will post the top entries on our website and share across social media for September 21. An overall winner will be chosen and a TPP hoodie and goodie-pack will be posted to the school.

Hurry! Only one week to enter

Closing date for entry: September 17

Every issue of your Primary Planet is packed full of facts and figures. Why not record the top 4 things that you learned from this issue. When you do, make sure to draw an illustration to go with each one. When you are finished, share and discuss your choices with your classmates. We have added our favourite one below. You'll see I didn't just copy it from TPP, I wrote it out in my own words. Always a great idea when doing a project.

Did You Know?

Salvatore Gauru is an Italian artist. He sold a sculpture recently for €15,000. Nothing unusual about that I hear you say. Well, what about this? Would you believe me if I told you that the sculpture, called Io Sono (I Am), is invisible? I kid you not!

Drama Time

Each month, we invite you and your class to base your drama lesson on a theme from The Primary Planet.

This month, we are turning our attention to the work of the World Wildlife Fund for Nature. With their conservation efforts as your starting point, we challenge you to create a short piece of drama, involving an array of people (or animals) , as well as a suitable storyline. To help you, should you need it, we have provided some ideas below.

Idea 1:

You need to try and convince your family to recognise Earth Hour by presenting its benefits.

Idea 2:

Try to convince your principal to take action for #TheRacelsOn

Idea 3:

You are Maka Monture Pāki and you're giving your speech at the US Youth Leadership Awards.

Idea 4:

Pretend you have a meeting with Leo Varadkar to present your ideas to help Ireland play its part in reducing climate change and protecting the earth.

Have Your Say

Based on articles from this month's mag, we want you to think about some of the issues that arise. Remember, when you are trying to put forward an opinion, or an argument, make sure you know your facts and figures and be clear in how you feel about a certain topic and why. Here are some questions and statements you and your class might like to consider thinking about and discussing. Some you will agree with, some you clearly won't!

1.	I think all countries should recognise and take part in The International Day of Peace.
2.	I think Salvatoree Garau is a brilliant modern artist.
3.	The Debt for Nature Swap is a terrible idea.
4.	Chimpanzees make great pets.
5.	Hend Zaza is a modern day super hero.
6.	The internet has improved modern life.
7.	Online danger is not real. We should spend more time learning about 'real life' dangers like bulls and traffic.
8.	We don't need to look after our bodies and mental health. That's what doctors and modern medicine are for!
